Michael Jones, Rugby World Cup Volunteer Ambassador, is one of New Zealand's greatest rugby stars, an iconic All Black, member of the RWC 1987 winning New Zealand team and a former coach of Manu Samoa. Frano Botica is one of the few athletes who has worn Triple Black Jerseys, having played for the New Zealand Sevens, All Blacks (both rugby union) and Kiwis (rugby league). He has also been a New Zealand Maori representative.

PLAY RUGBY IN NZ | A Once in a Lifetime Experience

Tickets to this special event will raise funds to send two New York City Public High School students to play rugby and study in New Zealand with some of the top coaches and athletes in the world; proceeds will also provide two player/coach exchanges in 2011. Scholarships generously provided by AUT University and FRIENDS OF AUT, a 501c3 tax deductible charity. High school students will earn the scholarships through the Play Rugby USA program.
